Institutional & Trusts Fundraising Coordinator

Hours:	37.5 hours per week
Location:	The role is UK based, suitable for remote working in a virtual environment, with the need for occasional travel in the UK and overseas for team meetings, and to visit projects, involving the occasional overnight stay.
Reports to:	Director of Programmes
Salary:	£30,510 to £35,683 per annum (dependent on experience).
Contract:	Permanent

About the role

The Institutional & Trusts Fundraising Coordinator will develop new sources of income for THET, helping us to deliver on our vision of creating a world where everyone has access to quality healthcare. You will collaborate closely with a wide range of staff involved in developing proposals both in the UK and overseas.

Reporting to Louise McGrath, our Director of Programmes, who leads on our institutional and trust fundraising, you will have a demonstrable track-record in this field. You will excel in written English, and in creating opportunities for people to collaborate on the production of fundraising proposals. You will be methodical and organised and relish working to deadlines.

The role is part of the Programmes Team at THET, but you will collaborate closely with colleagues across the organisation, overseas and in the UK. You will also coordinate your work with staff in the External Engagement Team who have responsibility for events, private sector engagement and high net-worth individuals, all areas where we are already performing well.

You will be building on THET's strong reputation with donors. Our current partners include the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office, the Department of Health and Social Care, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the European Union, Johnson and Johnson and Health Education England.

Why this is a great opportunity

As you can see, we have enjoyed considerable success both in relation to institutional and trust fundraising to-date. THET has an excellent reputation in programme delivery and has scored A or A* in every annual review.

We realise however, that we could be doing so much more, and we are ambitious to diversify our funding in this tough environment.

You will be working with an exceptionally friendly team of people who are ambitious to achieve real change and impact, and you will be operating with considerable autonomy.

We are open to flexible hours and ready to employ someone in any location across the UK. Some 40% of our UK staff are now based outside London.

About THET

Today, one billion people will never see a qualified health worker in their lives.

Since 1988, THET has been working to change this. From reducing maternal deaths in Uganda to improving the quality of hospital care for injured children in Myanmar, we work to strengthen local health systems and build a healthier future for all.

We do this by leveraging the expertise and energy of the UK health community, supporting Health Partnerships between NHS institutions, Royal Colleges, and academic institutions in the UK and low- and middle-income countries (LMICs). THET is an NGO in Official Relations with the World Health Organization. We have also recently experienced a period of growth bringing the total number of staff at THET to c. 50. Of these, 60% are based in the UK. However, in the past eighteen months we have very actively encouraged applicants from other parts of the UK who are happy to be homeworking.

In recent years, THET has established a reputation for excellence in brokering partnerships between health institutions in the UK and overseas and this is expressed in our programmes work, our grants management service, and in our policy activity. In the past ten years THET has reached over 100,000 health workers across 31 countries in Africa, the Middle East, and Asia in partnership with over 130 UK institutions.

Accountability and working relationships

1. Strengthen institutional and trust fundraising effectiveness across THET

- Support the Director of Programmes to shape a robust strategy that identifies funding opportunities from trusts and foundations, and institutional sources, and clearly describes roles and responsibilities across the organisation.
- Manage processes that support the Director of Programmes and the wider organization to implement this strategy, and to effectively track and respond to opportunities.
- Support the Director to create an environment which encourages the discussion of ideas and cross-team working.

2. Generate fundraising proposals

- Invest in your understanding of THET and the wider Health Partnership community's work in order to contribute ideas for funding proposals in discussion with the Director of Programmes.
- Research, identify and apply to prospective funders, maintaining a vigorous pipeline of opportunities.
- Partner with overseas and UK-based colleagues to support the development of funding bids.
- Lead on the writing of funding bids when requested.
- Be accountable for an income target, developed in partnership with you and other team members.
- When requested, take responsibility for the stewardship of THET's relationship with specific donors and support others where appropriate.

3. Other

- Represent THET at external meetings with donors, Health Partnerships, and others, as required.
- Undertake other tasks as may be required, commensurate with experience.
- Undertake occasional travel overseas.
